Orange Warsaw Festival

Orange Warsaw Festival

is OWF for short.

OWF is a music festival.

It is many concerts in one place over a few days.

The word Orange is in the name because the company called Orange is sponsoring the festival,

A sponsor is someone who gives money to organise the festival.

The Warsaw in the name means that festival is in the city of Warsaw, in Poland.

Orange Warsaw Festival for all!

For Orange Warsaw Festival organisers it is important that everyone feels good and safe. It is like that for a long time. For about 10 years.

At the festival, you can meet different people with different disabilities.

This is why you can hear about OWF that it is a festival accessible to people with various disabilities.

In this text, you can find information about the accessibility of the Orange Warsaw Festival. It is on pages: 15 to 19.

Remember! In case you need any additional information about accessibility – just write to us:

Orange Warsaw Festival in 2023

Orange Warsaw Festival is once a year.

And it is for 2 days.

In 2023 it happens on 2nd and 3rd of June.

Orange Warsaw Festival is on the terrain of Służewiec Horse Race Track, in Warsaw.

The address is Puławska 266, 02-684 Warsaw.

About how to get to

Służewiec Horse Race Track

you can read in Easy-to-read titled:

Orange Warsaw Festival – hot to get there.

The text is on the OWF website:

You can find there:

1. Information about concerts and artists
2. Rules on how to behave during the festival
3. Information about the accessibility of the terrain
4. Information about the accessibility of concerts.

You can read more information about the accessibility of OWF on the website:

www.orangewarsawfestival.pl/en/ozn/ozn.

This is the website about the accessibility of OWF.

All important information is there,
also Easy-to-read texts.

Stages at OWF

There are 2 stages where concerts happen.

2 scenes are:

1. Orange Stage

It is a very big stage in the open air.

It is also called the main stage.

2. Warsaw Stage

It is a smaller stage.

It is under a big, pink tent.

On this stage, there are concerts of Polish artists.

There is also a space called a festival town.

Festival town is the whole terrain of the festival.

There are a lot of different stands, where you can buy food, drinks and alcohol.

Concerts at OWF

Orange Warsaw Festival lasts 2 days.

Every day there are different concerts.

Every day different artists perform on 2 stages: Orange Stage and Warsaw Stage.

The list of artists and the order of performing is called line-up.

You can check the line-up on the website:

www.orangewarsawfestival.pl/en/line-up.

Orange Stage is a big and colourful construction.
There are a lot of lights and large screens on the stage.

Silent Disco

There is also a Silent Disco at OWF.

Silent Disco is a type of party.

It is called a silent disco

because people dance

but you cannot hear music from the outside.

Music is in headphones.

Every person gets headphones and can choose music to dance to.

Silent Disco is inside the building.

This building is called Stand II,

in Polish language it is Trybuna II.

You can find more information on the website with line-up:

www.orangewarsawfestival.pl/en/line-up.

In the building where is a Silent Disco might be a lot of moving, blinking lights.

Accessibility of Orange Warsaw Festival

Comfort and safety of audiences

is important at OWF

Accessibility for people with different disabilities is also important.

Moving around from one place to another is comfortable.

There are no architectural barriers,

like stairs.

Next to Orange Stage and Warsaw Stage

there are accessibility areas.

You can read more about them on page 17.

People with disabilities can get to the festival through Priority Service Point.

You can read more about it in easy-to-read titled:

Orange Warsaw Festival – how to get there.

Priority Service Point is a big white tent.

It is before the festival gates.

Category N ticket

Persons with severe disability certification and any wheelchair-using person can buy category N tickets.

When you have a category N ticket you can use Priority Service Point.

When you have category N ticket, you can come to the festival with assisting person.

Remember: during 2 days of festival you can have only one and the same assisting person.

If you don't have category N tickets and you need support – go to Priority Service Point.

There will be people to help you.

Accessibility areas next to stages

Accessibility areas are next to:

- A. Orange Stage
- B. Warsaw Stage

In accessibility areas, there are:

1. Volunteers supporting audiences.
2. Induction loops.
3. Ramps and platforms,
so you can better see the stage..
4. Access to sign language interpreter.
5. Noise-cancelling headphones.
6. Chairs.
7. Access to electricity.
8. Accessible toilets.

Sometimes it gets crowded on the platforms.

But it is safe. You can always seat on the chair.

In the photo, there is a volunteer in a t-shirt saying:
Orange Foundation volunteer.

If you need any help, look around for a person wearing a t-shirt like this one.

Rules of behaviour: general information

Orange Warsaw Festival is a mass event.

This means that there are a lot of people at it

For this reason,

special rules of behaviour apply to everyone.

You will read about them on the following pages of this text.

Organisers and security take care of the safety.

You can recognize security guards by their clothing.

They wear outfits with the word SECURITY

(OCHRONA in Polish language).

They also have an official badge.

The security guard may ask you to change your behaviour or to do something.

But only if the security guard thinks that it will help keep you or others safe.

Additional information: entrance to the festival

Before entering the festival area, you will meet and talk to the security of the event.
OWF volunteers can help you with this.

Security guards will check for the items that the audience is not allowed to carry.
He or she might ask you to open your backpack or purse.

Things you can't bring are, for example:

- glass bottles or other containers
- alcohol
- drugs
- fireworks
- aerosols, such as deodorant.

Rules of behaviour:

food and drinks

You may not bring your food and drinks to the OWF festival town.

You must leave food and drink purchased outside the festival town before entering.

You can buy food and drink at the festival grounds.

There will be stands with them.

Only people with diabetes can bring their food and drinks.

You can only pay at the festival by card.

There will be:

1. ATM Machines.
2. A place to exchange cash for payment cards

The cards are prepared by the festival organizer.

OWF Volunteers

On the festival grounds,
you will meet OWF Volunteers.

Volunteers are trained to assist people with disabilities.

They help anyone who says they need it.

Remember!

If you need it – you can ask the volunteers for help or support.

You can also come to the Priority Service Points.

This point is at the entrance to the festival town.

Volunteers wear t-shirts with “Orange Foundation Volunteer”.
In Polish it is: “Wolontariusz Fundacji Orange”.
